HADDIGS BEAT NEW HAVEN A. C., 12-0

Sunday morning the fast team of the H. A. C. motored to New Haven to play the fast New Haven A. C. The bleachers of the New Haven field were packed and standing room was the only thing obtainable. The Norwich team played a wonderful game and found quite a few weak places in the New Haven line. The New Haven team had strengthened their lineup considerably since the last game in Norwich, but nevertheless the Norwich boys never feared them for a moment. As Captain Husey was out with a dislocated arm, Manager Cummins was chosen acting captain and had to pull the team out of some terrible arguments. The Williams brothers as usual starred for the H. A. C. Kearney, Brewer, O'Connell and Lynch also played a good game. Aubrey and Gallahan for the New Haven A. C. The H. A. C. expects to play Bulkeley Thanksgiving day. The lineups were:

H. A. C.
D. O'Connell ..... M. Stockoff
Right End ..... P. Burns
Right Tackle ..... R. Counihan
Right Guard ..... J. Manning

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET WAS ACTIVE.
New York, Nov. 25.—Financial, industrial and political developments exerted in varying degree their disturbing influence over today's active stock market, the latter factor probably outweighing all other considerations.

In point of fact, the monetary situation gave promise of early improvement, a definite program of more favorable bank statement and moderate offerings of time funds from interior. Trade conditions also were viewed with less pessimism in conservative circles, where it was recognized that Washington is directing its energies toward a definite program of adjustment with the least disturbance to the country's important industries. Secretary McAdoo's forthcoming retirement from the management of the nation's transportation systems furnished the political element, that feature being heavily stressed in the heavyweights of railroads, including many of the seasoned investors.

Just as it led the recent advance, so today the southern railway was among the first of the important rails to weaken, dropping 4 1/2 points on very heavy offerings. Other Pacific also, trans-acting the trade of the Pacific, fell to six points, closing mostly at low levels of the day.

Shipments were among the isolated features of strength, but Marine preferred broke abruptly later, showing an extreme reaction of almost nine points, the result of that group forfeiting 2 to 3 points.

U. S. Steel closed at a loss of 1 1/4 points, and kindred industrials and utilities were heavily to weak. Sales were 575,000 shares.

Heavyweight ruled in all branches of the bond market, the outstanding feature being the drop in offerings of Liberty 4 1/4's down to the new minimum of 97.40. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,500,000.

Old T. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

THE NEW MIGRATORY BIRD LAW

Don't take a shot at a wood or elder duck or you may get into trouble. These birds, among others, are wholly protected by the new Federal Migratory Bird Law.

This protection is the result of a treaty between the United States and Canada making certain birds in most of the North American continent immune from shot or bullet. Recent ratification by the Senate gives effect to the treaty.

For the most part there are but slight changes in the laws as they were established by the Weeks-McLean bill several years ago.

Some of the main features of the regulations as they have now become effective are:

No spring open season at all. The fall open season throughout the country is made more uniform than before. In a general way this is between September and January 31, with a period of not more than three and one-half months for individual species.

All States in the country have the right to enforce their own individual laws, provided these do not interfere with Federal rulings. They are not permitted to extend the Federal open season.

Uniform bag limits are set for the whole country; a hunter is not allowed to ship more than two day's bag limit in any one week. The daily bag limits for one person are as follows:

Ducks (except wood and elder) 25 in aggregate of all kinds; geese, 8 in aggregate of all kinds; rails, coots and gallinules, 25 in aggregate of all kinds; black-bellied and golden plovers and greater and lesser yellowlegs, 15 in aggregate of all kinds; Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, 25; woodcock, 6; doves (mourning and white-winged), 25 in aggregate of both kinds.

No Night Hunting.
No night hunting is allowed. This prohibits the hunting of migratory birds between sunset and a half hour before sunrise.

The sale of migratory birds is prohibited unless a permit is issued by the Secretary of Agriculture. In cases where migratory birds become injurious to agriculture permits may sometimes be issued to kill them.

The propagation and sale of migratory waterfowl on some farms and preserves is not only allowed, but encouraged.

The birds wholly protected by the law are all insectivorous birds, banded plovers, cranes, wood ducks and older ducks, swans, curlews, upland plover and all shore birds with the exception of black-bellied and golden plovers, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, woodcock and the greater and lesser yellowlegs. Certain non-game birds are also wholly protected. These are aukes, gulls, grebes, guillemots, terns, loons, puffins, terns and the like.

Open Seasons.
As an example of the manner in which the open seasons for individual species vary in different States, but are within the outside time limits set by the new law, take the case of waterfowl (with exceptions mentioned), coot, gallinules and Wilson snipe or jacksnipe. The open season for these birds is from September 16 to December 15 in the following States: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York (except Long Island), Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana.

On October 1 to January 15 is the open season in Rhode Island, Connecticut, Utah and the portion of Washington and Oregon west of the summit of the Cascade Mountains.

From September 1 to December 15, in the following States it is from November 1 to January 31: Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana.

SPORTING NOTES.

There are some who believe that the rights of the individual player, who makes the game possible, have been entirely lost sight of in the mess that has been stirred up around Peoria. Baseball spreads faster than scandal, says the Newark News in commenting on the situation. It has skipped across the Atlantic, hopped right over the eastern section of the country and landed in Peoria, where the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues has been cooking up another war. The little fellows of baseball demand the privilege of putting their players on the auction block and knocking 'em down to the highest bidder or keeping them if they desire.

Sir Thomas Lipton is an active gentleman and hardly had the armistice been signed before he kicked up something that looked like a noise concerning a yacht race for the American cup. Sir Thomas is mindful of the fact that he has one perfectly good sloop under cover in a Brooklyn yard, and that it has been there ever since the outbreak of the great war in 1914. There is a suggestion that the British back to England again without first giving him a chance to see if this latest English creation is as good as he says it is.

There are two great men in the American League, barring of course the man who thinks he's great—Ban Johnson. Capt. Trus R. Cobb, not in the gas and flame division, is one and Walter Johnson, premier pitcher of the Washington club, the other. What we have to say about Cobb is that he has been keeping up his wonderful work in baseball, year after year, with no seeming letup on his part and doing it so effectively that there are few pitchers in this period who have outstruck him, even for a single season in the 11 he has been laboring for the once famous Senators. Announcements of pitching figures for last season show that Walter is up there in front again. Folks said he was going back; declared he had seen in his best days as a pitcher and began to wonder upon whom Clarke Griffith would rely when Walter's arm went back. Cobb, however, has gone back, not all he of the buzz ball propensities did was to rank second in permitting earned runs per game lead the league in 1917. He was charged with 214 runs, 114 in 1918. And this after 11 years of service in a league where good hitting and good pitching are now entirely unknown.

with their property, but what about the players? A ballplayer has as much right to advance in his profession as an alderman or anyone else, but the minor league club owners would absolutely control the advancement of players by the system proposed at Peoria. Such a system would start a row between the minors and players. The big minors object to the football game the minor league club owners demand the right to draft players from the smaller minors. Looks like single-track democracy.

Did you ever know that Noah was once a heavy champion of the world? Yes, he was. But the guy we were talking about wasn't the one who paddled around the world. He was Noah Brusso, who used to box under the name of Tommy Burns. As a result of the interest in the football game the minor league club owners have added the sport to the regular program of "play day" events for the troops. This is probably the first appearance of football in the tropics.

We must all obey the laws of God if we expect to live in this land beyond. The requirements of the human soul are not satisfied unless men have the love of God in their hearts. Life is ours, God gives it to us, and you can have this love in your hearts by praying and asking more of Him.

One of you in this household. Hope may be in the hearts of those who are unable to attend church as well as those who attend the stately cathedral. The hope of the Christian hope we will soon see about Christmas time, are the hopes we all want. The whole world not only wants but needs them. The message of this great war is a lively hope, a solid hope, a Christian hope in the heart of every man, woman and child.

By special request a quartet from the Bass Choir rendered a delightful programme which was greatly enjoyed by the household and those who attended the service. The programme was as follows: At Twilight, Robinson; Hymn to Night, Beethoven; There's a Long, Long Trail, Elliott; Deep River, Finch. This same quartet started at Old Elm, where the Norwich Music Association held its concluding concert there for the season of 1917 and 1918. The members are: Charles H. Lamb, first tenor; James J. Moore, second tenor; Archibald MacDougal, first bass and Raymond W. Congdon, second bass. Miss Annie Taft accompanied on the piano with her usual sympathy and skill.

Men were at work last week putting down the board walks in several parts of the town. This is done every winter by the Norwich Rural association.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin M. Price moved.

Brigadier-General John Twigg Myers, U. S. Marine Corps, Post Commander of the Marine Barracks, Quantico, Virginia, who has succeeded Brigadier-General Albertus W. Catlin, General Myers was Post Commander of the Marine Barracks, Paris Island, S. C., previous to assuming his duties at Quantico and before that time had been Fleet Marine Officer of the Atlantic Fleet for about two years. His military record is full of thrills and adventure. During the Boxer uprising at Peking, China in 1900, the Marines under his command, together with a handful of Russian, English, Austrian and German troops defeated the rebellious Chinese. General Myers, at that time a Captain, was wounded during this fighting in the right leg, by an iron pointed spear and was brevetted for gallantry in action.

Two are needed to start a quarrel but one can stop it.
